“ Jim was my beloved father in law. I didn't play golf much, but I could give him a run for his money. We all enjoyed putt putt with him every holiday. When I first met him, he invited me to play video game golf on his Commodore 64 computer, which was state of the art back in the 1980s. (Jim never met a piece of technology he didn't want to purchase! And he usually did.) That was in the March and I had married his daughter by the end of July with his blessing and not even in a Catholic church! (His mother was Lutheran, so we hot married in the Lutheran church right across the street from St. Michael's, Springfield, Virginia.) We will miss his deep voice, his generous heart and his love towards us all whether we were perfect or imperfect. Jimdad, rest in peace with Jesus and all the saints, including my dear dad. Say hi to him for me and tell him I will see you all in about 100 years!!

“ Everything good people say about my brother-in-law is totally true!!!!!! He was always available when someone needed help, which was me frequently. He loved my sister to no end. Whatever she wanted or needed he gave with all his heart. He loved the Lord with all his might. This was exhibited in his dedication to the Knights of Columbus and his service to St James. He loved his computers and was on them frequently and offered his knowledge—whether asked for or not. He is home with the Lord and his family members who predeceased him. His mother in law probably greeted him with her usual “oh Jim”. We will all miss you “uncle Jim”.

“ The best childhood memories are those of anticipation and preparation of your Thanksgiving visits. Grandma and Mom were busy for days and stayed up most of the night waiting your arrival. As an adult looking up at my husband’s funeral and realizing it was your hands resting on my shoulders. Thanks for all the joy your brought to our family. ❤️ Mary-Jean Riley
