“ Sara, I heard about Dan being sick this week and then heard the bad news today...I will be thinking and praying for you for the days ahead...I know Dan is better now and Cancer is such a painful way to die...I am sure Dan arranged to go home to Heaven on July 4th as that would have been his desire and a great way to celebrate FREEDOM. “ Dan Fox was quite the gentleman. He became my supervisor at P&H Crane and we became friends. He was always someone you could talk to and he always had time to listen. I enjoyed singing for him at the American Legion and he befriended both of my children during their time in NJROTC at Conway High School. It's fitting that he passed on July the 4th. Anyone that knew him, knew he loved this country and was proud to have served. Dan always seemed and looked younger than he was. I counted him as a true friend. To Sarah and family, you already know how special he was.
