“ Sharon and family-my friend Jim (Buffy) will always have a special place in my heart. I remember when I first met him, he was selling realstate and I was building homes. We just meshed together well (who in the world would of thought that) and from there on developed a wonderful friendship. He then decided to get into the building business where he could make the big money. I took him under my wings and tried to help him as much as I could, so that he wouldn't make many mistakes. He still did but not as many. We had some wonderful times in the business together never as competitors but as friends in harmony. We made it to Atlanta to the "National Home Builders Convention" where we had a large time. Girls got to go shopping, boys roaming convention halls filled with 40 foot columns, then "Lesters Lemos", and "Coach and Six". He and Sharon came to our superbowl parties for years and he became an honored guest when he mastered the famous "funnel trick". So many memories and good times, it was an honor to call him my friend. Buffy you will always be remembered and never forgotten, thanks for being you and being in my life. You made a difference.

“ Big Jim, gonna miss you buddy. So many thoughts of the great times we all had together. Super Bowl parties, Coastal football games and so many more. You always lit up a room with your laugh, humor and lousy jokes. It was always so special to hear you talk about Sharon and your kids, true love at its best. You are truly one of God's special people that he shared with all of us. I thank God for the time he allowed us to be together and know that we will meet again. Godspeed, big guy.
