“ Just a few short months ago after I had my son we were outside grilling with Jaxon, his dad, and brothers. Jaxon was so amazed by my son and wanted me to rock him like a baby the same way I rocked my son. So I picked him right up and did just that while singing Rock a bye baby to him. He looked up at me with those beautiful big blue eyes and lashes for days and had a huge smile on his face. Then when I was finished my daughter Jasmyn did the same thing and he just loved it! Thank you Heather and Tom for allowing us to have this special moment with him that will live in our hearts forever. My heart breaks for you both and I pray in the coming days you will lean on your family, friends and god and find some kind of peace from this devastating tragedy
