“ *This is intended to be an open letter to all that may read and think about. Life is so short. Every morning when my eyes open and my feet hit the floor, I thank God for the "present" that he has given me. It's the present of having another opportunity to make a positive difference in my life, but in the lives of others too. Each of us have a purpose although we don't readily know what it is. If God could be here on earth in human form, he would spend all of his time looking into our eyes, hearing our hearts desires and healing our pain. But since he is not in human form, he sends others to us to put their arms around us, to look into our eyes, hear our hearts desires and to do what we can to help heal the pain. Each of us have an important task to accomplish in each day that he has given us the "present" of life today. So, make each day count as though it is the only day you have to make a positive difference in the life of each one you come in contact with, give a hug, a smile, a kind word and let everyone know they are appreciated for the contribution they made to your life today. The bagger at the grocery store, the people that pick up your trash each week, the one that delivers your newspaper to your door. Each one has made a large contribution to your quality of life. What can you do to contribute to theirs? My garbage men get a fresh bottle of water in the winter and gatorade in the summer. My newspaper carrier gets a "thank you" note. The bagger at the store gets a smile, and "have a blessed day? What do you give them in return? Don't take life for granted, each day is a Gift, use it wisely! “ To Dianna and Jeff's loved ones, I am deeply sorry for the loss of such a wonderful human being. I remember him for the way he loved to laugh and had so much life in his huge cuddly person. He was a life-size "Teddy Bear". He was an absolute joy to spend time with to talk with. The words cannot begin to describe how much he meant to Dianna my Sisternor how very thankful I am to him for the joy, laughter, and love he gave not only to Dianna, but all of the family. I will always appreciate him for helping Dianna "come back" after her previous loss, and the support and all the contributions he made to her life and well-being. Jeff will be sorely missed. I have something new to add to my kitchen wall that says "live well, laugh often and love much". Every time I look at that, I will remember Jeff. Sincerely, Bonnie Gates###imported-begin##Bonnie Gates###imported-end##
