“ Joe, Layna, & Joe, We became blessed with Jenine in our lives when Joseph & Whitney and many of "Mr.Royce's" and "Mr.Hatfield's" KIDS first met in preschool. Jenine has always been the Mom every child wish they had - loving, warm, smiling, kind, and understanding. She put everyone else's needs before her own. I choose to believe that she was an Angel placed temporarily on Earth to teach us how to love. Thanks for sharing her with us. We all grieve with your family & are here for you.##imported-begin##Jan & Whitney Bodkin##imported-end##

“ If sorrow would be removed in death, there would be no love in life. Even though, as cousins, we did not see each other very often, I miss Jenine very deeply. God will surely bless her, His precious daughter, with the comfort and peace she so richly deserves. This promise is extended to all if we ask. Lean on Jesus Christ; He will bring peace to you in your times of sorrow. Although, she is not here, I know Jenine lives! You can know too. Ask in faith, desiring to know truth, and the truth will be manifest unto you by the power of the Holy Spirit. We will see her again, thanks to the great plan of salvation and the resurrection of our Lord, Jesus Christ, of this I am sure. May each of us come to understand more fully the power of God's love.###imported-begin###Donna and Danny Stinebaugh###imported-end##

“ We travel through our life's journey with expectations of perfection, happiness and blissful solitude.....yet that is not what life really is. The true reality of life is full of curves and bumps and sometimes jagged cliffs. The true test of our being is how we handle these challenges and move beyond them to continue our journey. Jenine has found her peace, it will take time for you and your family to get through this time of sorrow. But, be comforted to know that you have an enormous network of family and friends to assist you.....God Bless###imported-begin##Tom, Risa and Daniel Richards###imported-end##
