“ "You're a mexiCAN not a mexiCAN'T" yeah I know you stole those words from George Lopez but - that day in recruit class when my fear of heights came back and I froze midway up the ladder - you didn't let me give up - you threw a 2nd ladder ran up it - got right next to me and screamed those words over and over until I cried but - completed the task at hand. That night you told me that I made you proud that day - and that you realized I wasn't one to just give up and I let you know that I learned from the best. Thank you for making me a stronger person all the way around and thank you for all the great memories - you were a great man - with a heart of gold - too bad more people didn't take the time to figure that out but I'm glad I was one of the people you let see that side of you. I miss ya knucklehead - more than you know xo

“ So sad, somethings are unfortunate the live ones left behind that you did not get to know, but would have lived just the same! The past can not be changed, but know I am sure he is just like you! He is hurting inside! Rest in peace! May God bless you, and may you find comfort!

“ Thoughts and prayers for Tweet, his family and his HCFR family !! U touched so many lives in the Public Safety field and U will be missed by myself and so many others !! R.I.P. Capt ! Miss U buddy !!!

“ Tweet wasn't a General, nor a President, but he was still a GREAT man! I met him back when I was going through fire school at HCFR as a volunteer ff. I was thoroughly impressed at his devotion and commitment he made towards the recruits of my class. And over the years on many fire scenes I had the privilege and honor of working alongside him. Regardless of what ever happened, he always shined as an exemplary man, leader and firefighter. While he may have left us, within side of all of us he touched in his unique way, there shall remain a part of him. I salute you brother Tweet, as you have answered your final alarm for service. Go forth, and protect the streets of heaven. Lil-Bob

“ God saw you getting tired and a cure was not to be. So he put his arms around you and whispered, "Come To Me". With tearful eyes we watched you, and saw you pass away. Although we loved you dearly, we could not make you stay. A golden heart stopped beating, hardworking hands at rest. God broke our hearts to prove to us, He only takes the Best.....Rest easy brother, your legacy will live on in all who's lives you enriched!
