

Jimmie W. Lane

July 5, 2004

Jimmie Wayne Lane also known as "Papa Blues" age 56 of Hawthorne Lane went to play music with the angels in Heaven on Monday, July 5, 2004. Born January 10, 1948 in Dillon, SC, he was the son of Carolyn Caulder Lane and the late James W. Lane. Mr. Lane owned and operated "Lil Concert Cafe" in Myrtle Beach for several years and owned "A Star in You" karaoke for the past 15 years. He loved his music and has touched many lives through his music and his love for people. He will be greatly missed by his family and friends but will always be remembered by his love of music and his love for his family and friends. Surviving in addition to his mother of Surfside Beach are his loving wife of 34 years, Karin N. Lane of Myrtle Beach; his beautiful children, Bryan and Brett Lane both of Atlanta, GA, Shayne and Diondra Lane both of Myrtle Beach, April Bennett of Valdosta, GA; two grandchildren and brothers and their wives Alan and Libby Lane of Davidson, NC and Arthur and Elizabeth Lane of Socastee. Services will be 2:00 PM, Friday at Goldfinch Funeral Home, Beach Chapel. Burial will follow in Ocean Woods Cemetery. The family will receive friends from 7:00-9:00, Thursday at the funeral home. A Celebration of Jimmie's eternal life will be 5:00 PM, Friday at Warren's Restaurant in Myrtle Beach.

“ JW tricked me into singing solo for the first time! He was one of the sweetest men it has ever been my privilege to meet. From the first night I met him at Warren's he always remembered my name. From the Concert Cafe to the Red Lion, wherever you saw him there was a smile on his face and a song in his heart. I will miss my friend, but I know he'll be keeping that heavenly choir in tune.##imported-begin##Sonya Talbert##imported-end##

“ Some of my fondest memories are late nights at JW's Karoke Kastle. Though we'd lost touch, I've always felt influenced by his warmth and humor with his customers and friends. My condolences to his loved ones and closest friends.##imported-begin##Lee McDonald##imported-end##
