“ Not being close to Daddy in physical location I don't see him as often as you may have been able but I will greatly miss our two hour phone calls, his hearty laugh, genuine concern and his down to earth philosophy of life. The shock of his leaving us reminds us of the fragile nature of humanity and the necessity to cherish each other. I wish to send special love to all my brothers and sister and their families and hope that they will keep calling me, to share tears, the laughter over dear memories and just to share ourselves. I pray all will draw solace from Jesus' words promising a resurrection to life in John 5:28 & 29. Love, Teri##imported-begin##Teri Schnabel Blaschke##imported-end##

“ We just spoke recently... and I will very much miss seeing John at morning Mass. We'll always know, however,that he is truly there with us as part of that beautiful Communion of Saints. John always received Holy Communion in an exceptionally reverent way... he left such an impression on me. Although we did not know each other well, I'm thankful to have enjoyed John and his sense of humor, too! My heartfelt wishes go out to John's family. We will keep all of you in our prayers -- our loss is Heaven's gain.##imported-begin##Teresa Marie Lutomski##imported-end##
