“Duty to the family; strength enough to protect those without voices; the courage and character to stand for something and defend it to the last bullet...the last breath. There is nothing that you failed to teach me; everything I do, is in some measure, a reflection of what you were, or weren't. All is done; energy transferred; pride and peace belong to you...begin the rest you have earned. In short; from one flawed man to another – thank you.

A grateful Son,

Andrew Giordonello

“ Dear Mrs. Giordonello, John, and Andy, I am so sorry to hear of Mr. Giordonello's passing. I have nothing but good memories and times with your family. We were just talking the other day about how during hurricane Gloria in '86 we all came to your house every night to take showers since we had no power for a week - so nice of you guys. You are all in my prayers. Love, Kim Kildale Slavin and all the Kildales.

“ Dear Elaine, When we were kids my brother was my hero, my protector and my handsome big brother. We had been through so much while growing up. I pray that he knew how much I loved him. My heart aches for you, John, Andy and Anthony. I'm so sad that I didn't get to see him before he passed. God bless you and the boys with his peace. Please keep in touch. Love, Rosie

“ I was very sad to read of John's passing. He brings back fond memories of the times I worked with him in New Cassel. He taught me much of how to act as a rookie Policeman. I saw much of him and Elaine during my Chiropractic career and had many good conversations reminiscing about the job.
