“ John was my companion, my partner in life. He was my other half. My heart. Our family rock. He was the glue that made us whole. We were the happiest when we were all together. Nothing made sense without John. That’s why I dragged him to all trips. He was our family heart, our best friend, our rock. This year would be our 20 year anniversary.

John was a wonderful husband and great father I want everyone to know he was a wonderful husband He always was so involved with his children’s lives traveling all over the place to games, swim meets, ballet recitals, to Disney world. He was always telling me he was trying to get his girls into into music and surfing. How excited he was about getting the girls into college and buying them their first cars. He loved his daughters so much he would brag about their accomplishments he was so proud of his girls and the sports the played lacrosse Chloe and Cameron with swim team and how smart those two are he was a proud father. And he loved his wife Lauren so much he would talk about his love for her so often.

John was such a great brother always their for his sisters and brother. He was always helping my mother with her home and anything she needed after my father past. He always wanted us together at my moms he loved my mother and father so much.

But He was so much more then that.
He was the funniest person you ever met. He could make a whole room belly laugh with very little effort. Wether it was a dancing Chetto or play Dow poop he made with real nuts and stuck in a drawer for us to find. Or the fake dirty bomb he sent work. His little doodles and Cartoons and drawings he always was playing tricks on everyone. He always had people shocked and laughing. that’s what most people remmber about him his great smile and great sense of humor.

But More then that John was a great business man he helped grow Florian Greenhouse into what it is today. John also was part of buying out and revitalize another business Janco Greenhouse which could not have been done without him. He knew everything about the greenhouse and glass business. he worked at Florian since he was 17 Years old. You could ask him anything and he knew the answer. He worked his way up in the company starting in the factory working his way through each department he even became a greenhouse installer. After years he became a salesman and after my father passed finally a owner and a manager. He delt with incredibly hard situations and he was always a rock getting through tough times wether it was financially trouble, or lawsuits, customer battles, you name it. He always knew how to deal with a problem he always had a great solution. John was also incredibly smart we would love too strategize at work together different ideas and solutions new products and major decisions raises and firings. He an excellent entrepreneur business leader father son brother. From his loving wife
