And your bookcase still holds all your books

It's as if all you've done is go out of town

You'll be back soon, that's just how it looks

But your suitcase is empty, it's right here in the hall

That's not even the strangest thing

Why would you leave your wallet behind

Your glasses, your wristwatch and ring

Your glasses, your wristwatch and ring

Sometimes I forget that you've gone

That we'll never see you again

I think for a moment, I've got to give her a call...

“ To the Beloved Family: I am so sorry for your loss. May Jehovah God comfort you and give you the support you need within the family circle with the memories you share; likewise, also give you encouragement through your dear friends; and moreover, may God give you hope and strengthen your faith in His promises found in His word-the Holy Bible. In His great love for us and mercy, Jehovah has promised that "there is going to be a resurrection..." (Acts 24:15) He has promised through His Son, Jesus, that the time "is coming when all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out..." (John 5:25, 26, 28, and 29) Then, God will swallow up death forever; sickness and wickedness will also be removed forever! (Isaiah 25:8; Isaiah 33:24; Psalms 37:9-11, 29) As the waves of sadness come, may these divine promises help to calm your hearts and strengthen you to bear up under the pain- until Miss Kathleen is called to life again. (Job 14:14, 15) You have my deepest sympathy.##imported-begin##Tammy Johnson, Lawton, OK##imported-end##
