“ When I was going through chemo Buddy was such an inspiration to me, and I would be so disappointed if I visited the candle shop and he wasn't there to give me one of his great hugs. He will be missed by everyone who knew him. There is a new angel in Heaven.

“ Steve,
The last time I saw Buddy was April 27 at the Pelicans. I was standing at the customer service booth talking with John when he walked up to me and started talking to me. He was telling me the latest updates on himself and smiling the whole time. He was always optimistic when he spoke of his health but he also said he knew that each day was a gift that he valued and treasured to have with his family and friends and his Pelican family. Ricky and I will be thinking of you and your family during these difficult days.
