“ I am a friend and fellow church member of Renee Tyler. I am praying for you and your entire family. “Weeping may remain for a night, but rejoicing comes in the morning”. When the Psalmist David’s heart was broken, he prayed “You have kept count of my tossings; put my tears in your bottle. Are they not in your book?” God is catching your tears! God sees your grief. May He reassure you that all is not lost and remind you to “be still” and rest in the knowledge that He is God. He is your refuge. He works all things together for the good of those He has called. God promises you that when you go through deep waters and great trouble, He will be with you. When you go through rivers of difficulty, you will not drown. When you walk through the fire of oppression you will not be burned up; the flames will not consume you. Run to the shelter of the Most High where you will find sweet rest. Respectfully, Becky Ray
