Can you believe this was just 3 days before she went to "meet her maker". I am so thankful that she got to enjoy this birthday with all of us.

This video was made with pictures from Mom's iPhone. A lot were selfies that she took or pictures we took by grabbing her phone to help her take pictures. She never put that phone down.

“*To be an angel, one need not have wings.
In giving love there is an equal grace.
Nor need one seek the aura in the face,
As love unveils the beauty of all things.*”

By Francois Couperin.

We are so sorry for your loss.

“My sincere sympathy to Kurt, Kari and families. I only met Linda twice, but I thought she was lovely. Wish I could have known her better. She proved to be a swell eighty-five cents card player too.”

“ I truly am broken hearted. Mom was by best friend and I loved her to the core. I feel I am finally out of the fog of these past few days but I know this heaviness in my chest, this missing piece, will never go away and I am okay with that. I know God took her at the right time. She had just celebrated her birthday and was surrounded by close friends and family. She did NOT want to be taken to heaven in the hospital hooked up to a bunch of stuff and she did NOT want to be on an oxygen tank. She left us peacefully on her couch, with the TV on sleeping which is exactly where she wanted it to happen. No struggle, no pain, just peaceful. When I found her I knew she had left her body and was in heaven. Sadly, that is a memory I will never be able to get rid of but when it pops in my head, I take my loving husbands advice and picture her big beautiful smile that always had a little lipstick on her tooth which makes me smile. For everyone that reached out, thank you so much. She knew she was on borrowed time with a heart EF rate of only 10% for the past 12 years and recently being diagnosed with COPD. She knew the day could come at any moment. In her letter she made it very clear she did not want a memorial service and that she wanted her ashes to be spread in the ocean and she said "Go to Dinner". So we are going to do that. We will be inviting close family and friends for the burial at sea and will reach out individually when we have the date set and then anyone that wants to meet us for dinner afterward I will be posting the information on my Facebook page on where to meet us. She wanted a celebration and she wants us to smile and remember the good times and that is what we are going to do. Thank you ALL who have been supportive over the years and been there for her during the tough times. She reminds us that no matter how hard you feel you have it, willpower and strength along with love and kindness can pull you through. Her philosophy on life: "Hear no Evil, Speak no Evil, See no Evil. " and "Live, Laugh, Love".

“ My wonderful niece, Linda. I will miss you so much. The fun memories I have of the time spent with you last year will fill my heart with happiness. I wish we could have more of those fun times, but since we can't I will cherish the memories and laugh about some of them. Love you and miss you. See you again so save me a place close to you.

“ After too many years of not being in touch, Linda and I had re-connected. She had been a close friend for many years and I had missed her. Finally I had the opportunity to spend a few days with her this past weekend and enjoyed it so much. The years dropped away as we talked. So thankful that I was able to spend time with her never realizing that she would be taken home so quickly. What a wonderful friend and lady!!! She was a beautiful friend, mother and grandmother. I will miss her dearly!
