“ Dear Mom,

It has now been a full year since the LORD took away your pain and gave you peace in HIS son's open arms. Liz, the kids, and I have missed you dearly, but we know that you are in a better place and it is only for a short time till we meet again for eternity. I still feel your presence around me and at times I well up inside at your absence. I refocus myself on the memories we shared, the people you touched and the values you instilled and all my sorrows seem to fade away. I know your decorating your heart out up there; getting it ready for when the LORD calls each of us to join you. So, until we meet again in HIS presence Mom, have a Happy 1st Heavenly Anniversary.

Love Always,

“ As we come to a year without you, I still feel your presence. You were there with Ruthie. You were there when I worried about my employment I saw it on a the back of a bus "Be not afraid", Our favorite church song. You were there when the tree almost crushed Paul in his car. Today as I drove home I saw a statue of an Angel over a Fireman in the back of a pick up. That just doesn't happen everyday!!! I'm sure it was a 911 memorial. The say a Hail Mary on your Grave stone works, Dad tells me he has said at least 100. We miss you keep looking over us. I love you, Bud

You both deserved the respect. You ALWAYS welcomed me into your home and your hearts. Years could pass and it did not matter. I always felt included. To this day the Hemsing clan overflows with warmth. Ruthie, I love you, my friend. Glen and I are here for you and your family. “ Hi Ms. Lori and Mr. Dick....and the whole crew, Our friendship is beyond words...my heart aches for all of you for the emptiness you feel. Her smile, and laughter brought tears to my eyes at times. Her passion for her family and Mr. Dick and all her friends was such a lesson to all. She treated everyone as if We were the most important person on earth at that time with her. I'll still be speaking to her about my faith and I hope you all know she's in the perfect Home for you to do that too! When I was hospitalized, she brought me several new pajamas and lotioned my legs and feet. She was a servant to all. She loved and appreciated life with her whole family and everyone on the outside was her extended family. She was more concerned for my needs than her own. When my mom and best friend passed away a few years ago within the same year, she came to my house and told me how worried she was about me. She said, lets go for lunch and she began to tell me how; she (Ms. Lori) couldn't replace my mom or best friend but that she would do the best she could. She wanted me to consider myself her daughter. I know how special I felt and how sad I feel. I can only imagine how her family feels and I want them to know I am praying for them vigilantly. She was like a 2nd mom/friend/Big sister all wrapped up in one. Thank you for sharing her with me and thank you Lord for introducing her into my life...She will always remain in my heart. Hugs to Mr. Dick and the family...especially Patty Poo...you all will really need each other. Remember the joy she brought to everyone and the memories all of you have! “ My time with Loretta (Mom of my twin sister) was limited over the years but always a treat. Loretta shared her home on the beach and in Conway with me while giving me many laughs through her kids and the craziness she shared. Loretta always treated my like family and I loved her like mine. I'm embarrassed to admit the last time we shared time together was in Conway. The whole family there and I had to leave because she was feeling so bad. I could not emotionally deal with her pain. Family is everything to me and that particular visit I was truly scared another family member was leaving. It was shortly after I lost my father. She and Dick raised each other well.. What a great pair. I believe as a parent the love our kids show to their kids and family is determined by what our parents showed us. Loretta and Dick should be so proud. I'm writing this note through tears of grief Loretta is gone and tears of joy she is sitting in the presence of our Lord with no pain, no concerns and only glory in his arms. I know she is with my Dad and grand parents talking about all of us. Hopefully, most of it is good. Thank you Loretta for allowing me to be part of your life. Oh yea... One of our gatherings at the beach house made me gain 73lbs., I never lost them, thanks.... Now that you are in heaven and have a little time with the big guy, put in a word for me. I need to lose some mass amounts of weight. You are a gift and one day.. many days from now I hope, we can hug and laugh again. My love always,

“ Mom Mom, With each new day I find myself mourning and missing you in a new and unexpected way. I lost my grandmother, that in itself is devastating, but I find myself mourning you for others as well. My mother has lost her mother... it brings tears to my eyes each and every day imagining what that must feel like. It seems like the worst nightmare I can imagine... I am so proud of the daughter that you raised, my mother, for the strength that it must have taken to speak of your life and the lives you touched at your funeral. She pushes through each day staying strong for everyone else. As I hold Copper each night rocking him to sleep, I weep at the thought of leaving my children on this Earth. I grieve for Poppy... he has lost his best friend, love of his life and mother of his children. The most comforting part of my day is crawling into bed each night and feeling the warmth and love of my husband next to me. My heart breaks for Poppy... I can't imagine the void and emptiness he must feel with this being taken from him. We all find strength in knowing you are no longer in pain and in a much better place. You have left behind so many wonderful memories... I will forever think of you when I start my gas stove... the smell brings me back to my childhood spending time with you in White Plains... it is such a comforting smell that warms my soul and makes me think of the joy of a warm breakfast on a cold day. Thank you for everything you were in your life. I will forever miss you. I love you!!!

“ Mom, the life you lived was amazing. The people you touched were many. You are truly missed. You showed me the small things in life never really are small, they are life. Today a small bunny was eating on my lawn. Another sign that I should slow down and smell the roses, life is short. Your lessons will stay with me. I love you Mom. Always, Bud I was neever introduced to any of Mon's friends as her daughter-in-law but as her oldest daughter. You bore your cross with dignity, never complaining about your illness, always concerned for others, open arms. You will sorely be missed. “ I am so sorry for your loss. May you find comfort in knowing how Jehovah God "is healing the brokenhearted ones and is binding up their painful spots." (Psalms 147:3) He can feel your pain in his heart. God has promised and has given us assurance through his son, Jesus that "all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out" in the resurrection "at the last day." (John 5:24, 25, 28 and 29; John 11:23, 24) At that time, God "will wipe every tear from (our) eyes and death will be no more neither mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore..." (Revelation 21:4) Meanwhile, may the wonderful memories you share and the prospect of seeing Miss Loretta again bring you peace of mind and heart. You have my deepest sympathy.##imported-begin##T. I have been privileged to know this strong woman who had such a joy in life and an extraordinary sense of good humor despite an overwhelming diagnosis and constant pain. The love and care of her Husband and her love of him was palpable whenever I was with them.
