“ It's no surprise that the passing of my Grandmother will impact many lives. You can't exist for that many years and not have touched so many people. Thankfully, she is the person that people wish they could be and we're lucky to have had her attention when it counted. It will be a very sad day for all of humanity, to those who knew her and to those that were unaware of the person she was. We tried to prepare emotionally for her passing and we all hoped she would go peacefully and with the grace she has always presented, and that came to pass. Not very many people know someone that embodies all the things that she possessed and the legacy that will live on will be an example for all to admire. I also realize that, in my lifetime, she had never raised her voice in anger or spoke a harsh word in malice about anyone. Her faith was unshakeable and the grace she exhibited was a quality often seen in royalty or the clergy. I could only strive to come close to the standards she has set during her lifetime. I feel that I'm a better person since I've been in her presence, now that I'm able to fully understand the model she has established. I will always feel the loss of not having her to advise me and to listen to what I have to say, but I know she's in the best place possible, without any doubts. My love for my Grandmother will be with me for all my life... God Bless us all... My family and I appreciate all your efforts during this time. We're so blessed to have all of your prayers and support and our hearts can only say "Thank You" at this time but those words don't say all we feel. Again, thank you from all of our family...##imported-begin##James W. Cobb##imported-end##

“ Dear Jane and family: So sorry to hear about your Mother. She was a gracious and lovely lady. The years working with her; she represented our hospital with true professionalism, dignity and grace. She portrayed the genuine Nursing profession and was generously loved by so many. My heartfelt symphony to all of you. We've lost a wonderful lady, but her memory will be with us forever. I loved her dearly. Tessa Edmondson###imported-begin###Tessa Edmondson###imported-end###
