

Lynda Winkler

June 13, 1939 - January 31, 2014

Myrtle Beach...Lynda Sue Winkler, age 74, wife of Bill Winkler passed away January 31, 2014.

We lost Sue after a lengthy battle with cancer. Sue was such a fun loving person and will be missed by so many people, including her husband, Bill. Although Sue is gone, she'll be remembered by her golfing partners, her card playing colleagues and many other folks she encountered through her many years in Ohio, Maryland, South Carolina and Florida.

Although there were no children in her life, she cherished her nieces and their children.

Sue came from a line of educational providers, her mother Alberta Roland, brother Bill Roland, and two nieces were all teachers, not to mention, her father Bill who announced sports events for the school. Several of these family members also attended Miami University in southern Ohio. But before college,

Sue attended high school in Massillon, Ohio where many people agree this is the heart of football. As a matter-of-fact her high school band was selected to march in the Rose Bowl parade back in 1954 out in Pasadena, California. And since Sue was then a majorette for the football team, she was in attendance for this grand affair. After her graduation from Miami University, she went on to achieve her master's equivalency in education and teach primary and secondary school in both northern Ohio and Maryland. While in Ohio she met her husband Bill and married about a year later. They both pulled up stakes and moved to Maryland for the next twenty-five years or so, before retiring with Bill and moving to South Carolina and the Myrtle Beach area.

They enjoyed Myrtle Beach before deciding to build another home in Florida.

They spent their time commuting back and forth between their two homes and when free time was available, they went on cruises. Some twenty plus ocean ventures to the Caribbean as well as Alaska and a European river cruise.

All in all a very rewarding life and a full filling career. You might say a satisfying Bucket List.

A Memorial Service will be held at Goldfinch Funeral Home Conway Chapel on Saturday February 8, 2014 at 4:00PM with Pastor Johnathan D. Harris officiating.
