“ With heavy hearts, we at Jersey Bagels & Subs mourn the passing of our long time friend and customer Marie Tims on the evening of December 24, 2024, only months after she lost her brother and best friend Marty. We got to know Marie & Marty many years ago but always thought they were husband and wife because of their back & forth banter, their special relationship and all the funny stories they shared with us. Marie actually showed us her ID early on to prove she was Marty’s sister, not his wife! Of course they had their own table at Jersey Bagels and one day without telling us, Marie hung a funny framed photo of herself and Marty on our wall above “their table”. (I cracked up when I went to clean the table, looked up and saw it!:) ...and the rest is history! From that day on, Marty & Marie brought in a new photo for every holiday and sometimes just for the heck of it...what an unforgettable “Brother & Sister Act” they were! Marie came in one day to introduce us to her dog Rocco when she got him, she was SO happy and she always had a new picture of him to show us or a new story to tell about her four-legged fur baby. How she loved her Rocco!❤️🐾 Our thoughts, prayers, strength and love are with the Tims family. Thanks for all the laughs and the memories Marie, we’ll never forget you. We know that somewhere up there, the “Marty & Marie Act” is in full swing and the heavens are smiling. God Bless you both. 💜🙏👍💜

“ Dearest Marie,

My heart aches to learn that you have moved on to heaven.

You were truly a remarkable woman who brought so much joy to everyone around you, especially to me. You will always hold a special place in my heart.

I still remember the day I asked you to marry me. Your playful response, “Forget the marriage, let’s just move on to the honeymoon,” never fails to bring a smile to my face.

I will deeply miss you.

With love,

Danny

“ I got to know Marie Tims as her pest control technician but she quickly became a friend. She was so funny, loud and care free. Always full of jokes and puns. May she and Marty rest in peace.
