“ I can still hear the pots and pans rattling on a Sunday morning when I was trying to sleep at 7 am. I always said that it was a sound that I would never stop hearing, even when she was gone. I can still taste her wonderful cooking, and feel her unconditional love. She had so many wonderful things about her that it would take me the rest of my life to tell you about them. If you knew her you know what I mean. We lost her in life, but gained great memories of her. She is with me every day in my thoughts.##imported-begin##Mahlon Beers##imported-end##

“ Happy Birthday Grandma!!! Not a day goes by that I don't look at your picture or think of you. I know you are by my side always protecting me just like you always were. I wish I had gotten to see you more last last few years, but it was fun e-mailing you near the end cause you couldn't hear on the phone. (unless we were wispering about you)Guess that was the wonderful selective hearing you had. LOL I love you always :)###imported-begin##Rachael Terhaar##imported-end##
