“Mary Lee, was a lady of grace, always looked like she stepped out of a band box. She told me she had out lived all her children and all she had left to cherish were her grandchildren. She was a beautiful lady and always had a nice word to say about everyone. One of her grandchildren would come once in a while to church to sit with her. God bless you, Mary Lee, I know you have gone to a better place. I will see you one day...
