"Heaven: the promise that the person isn't gone forever, my prayers are reaching them, that the love I have for them meets them where my hands can't. I was chosen to love them. I was chosen to love them because God knew I would still make something of their love. The love I had and still have for them is making the world a softer place. Every smile I give a stranger, every bird I feed on my morning walk, every hug I give to someone who's still living; this is my greatest evidence. Yes, someone loved me once. Yes, they walked with me here once and I look for their footsteps still. Yes, I dream them back all the time. Yes, they made the world bearable, and I will too. I'll do for others what they did for me with all the love they left behind."
