“ Hey Nicole. I've been thinking about you lately. I miss you. I wish we could replay memories like movies, so I could rewatch all the fun we had together in high school. Your smile is unforgettable though.

“ My sweet Nicole

With tears in my eyes and sad feelings this is the only place I could write to you.

I want to feel happy and sometimes I do but then my thoughts come to you because you are missing in the sharing of any joy. So here I will update you on some things

Your co worker Tommy the one you Invited to Thanksgiving Dinner 2017 your last one.

You invited him because he was going through a tough patch in his life, Well after you gone he had a stroke and is in a home now.

Another one of my aunts died in Montreal.

and now I am about to have 2nd Thanksgiving without you. Ben and his family have graciously invited me to dinner I will bring Baklava. (grandmas request)

On Friday November 22 Christopher and Laura got engaged I am hoping for a speedy wedding, and then I think how you will never come and tell of your good news ever again.

This Thanksgiving I am thankful for my family you and your brothers were my life for father and my husband, my parents sisters and their families and all my friends who put up with me. I will be joining the family in Toronto again this winter I wish you were going with me

Your headstone should be ready and I do hope you like it Your dad, brothers, and Ben all helped pick the color, style and design. Part of my heart left with you that night and I always feel the emptiness

and miss you forever- your mom still

“ 7-14-18.....Just found out today of Nicole's passing. I met Nicole when she was 21 and a cashier at my local Bi-Lo. We developed such a close friendship and I loved her like a daughter. When I found out today about her death, I am devastated and heartbroken. I carry in my wallet a letter she wrote me several years ago and will cherish it. We talked about life struggles and the Lord and how much he loves her and gave his son Jesus so that she could be with him in heaven. She has a special place in my heart and each year at Christmas I display a beautiful ornament she made for me. May you forever rest In the Arms of Jesus Nicole. I will see you again one day and what a glorious or Union it will be. Your second mama Debby McClam. John 14:6

“ I will never forget the first day I met Nicole I had helped mrs roula move a couch and was enjoying a gin and tonic when a girl busted into the house in mid sentence yelling about how dumb customers were at work and in mid rage she turned and looked at me and asked “ who are you?” So confused. So I told her who I was and she so sweetly said “ oh hi I’m nicole nice to meet you” and went on with her rage and I knew that we would be best friends !! I wish I could go back in time to really take in every second of hiking and car trips and gym time with you Nicole! You made my life better and I know you changed the life of everyone you knew!! I will always cherish our moments together !!

“ Nicole..you beautiful, wild, girl. You could light up the room and have anyone interested in you within minutes. You were such a great person. I will never forget the bar nights. The endless cigarettes and conversations. The laughs and ruthless sorry and uno games. I will never forget you. I wish you peace princess. And I wish if i ever have a daughter, I hope she has just a little of your personality. You will and forever will be an amazing person. I just wish we could have had more time together. I'm sorry for everything sweet girl. Rest east unicorn💕💕

“ Nicole, I worked all but 10 minutes of my shift tonight when Tommy asked my if I was going to your service. Who's service? When did this happen ? Not our Nicole ! Tommy with tears filling his eyes told me what he knew. Nicole you often told me you loved me and said what would you do with out me, then that lovable laugh and the snort. I will miss that and you. More people loved you than you could have known. We wish now that you knew.

*So sorry for the loss of a beautiful young girl.
She touched so many lives in her short time.
To her parents, if it is any comfort at all, please know this will pass, it will be hard in fact the hardest thing you will ever go through, but I can assure you this pain will ease. There will always be a wound in your heart, a void in your life, but you will come out the other side.
You will find a new normal.
I speak from the same experience.
May God bless you, and your family during this time.*
