“ Dear Liz, I wish I could say, I knew Pat. Sadly, my loss. He touched so may lives, from all that I read. You were a blessed woman to have called him your husband. You certainly completed each other. I pray for you every day to get through this. I loved your story about carrying the scars. So true. Warm hugs, Teri

“ Another of the great men has stepped across ; there are none to spare this kind; he was loved by so many in a special way. There is a certain nobility about enduring , withstanding the the winds of a life's fortunes and un-fortunes...bending as necessary in the strong puffs. One of the positive aspects of the passing of one so loved is the focus it brings to what really is important...he was

“ My first love at age 12 and still a friend at age 66. You always knew when Pat was in the room by his one of a kind laugh. He worked at Motorola with my husband and attended our wedding 44 years ago. Many wonderful memories of a wonderful kid and man. Hope to see you again someday, Pat. “ Liz, we will always treasure the memories we made with you and Pat in Plantation. We had such good times. The Mystery Dinner, lobster dinner with van cleanup the day after, Hemingway Days, cul-de-sac parties with home-made wine from Michigan. We were so lucky to have moved next door to you guys. Pat's impact on our lives is forever.

*Always in our prayers.
