“ Mr. Scheno's classroom in Wing School was always a fun place to learn and explore. He was a wonderful teacher who I have great memories of. He even wrote in my yearbook from 1985, signed 'Mr. S.' with a happy face.

“ According to Robert Frost, "There are two kinds of teachers: the kind that fill you with so much quail shot that you can't move, and the kind that just gives you a little prod behind and you jump to the skies." Paul was the latter kind. I enjoyed working with him at Sampit Elementary School. No matter what happened, he had a smile and a kind word. We are all blessed to have known him.

“ Mr. Scheno was my reading teacher at the Wing Elementary School in the early 80s. I have such vivid memories of his thoughtful teaching. My mom and I were remembering the Bear Picnic he assembled for a field trip and the generosity of spirit he always shared with his students.
I am now an elementary teacher and hope I am able to bring the same type of enthusiasm to my work as Mr. Scheno did.

“ To Mr. Schenos family, My son Evan was a 4th grader at the Harbor School in Georgetown. Mr Scheno was a shining light at that place. Although we had arguments over spelling and spell check (Mr Scheno was more lenient than I) he can be proud that Evan is now doing his Masters work at University of Michigan. I know that the writing and lessons that Mr. Scheno provided in that class were the basis for my sons' education and accomplishments. Thank you for that and know that he did make a big difference with the children. Peace be with you.
