“ Paul was very dear to us and I always hoped that he and Gina would marry. They had many good times together. She wanted to be here but could not arrange her work time soon enough. We know that words can't help but please know that our hearts are with you. I believe without a doubt that the spirit leaves the body and is never more alive than when it is free. And I know, without a doubt, that Paul wants you to understand that he is well and happy. He will miss you and will be there to greet you some day. Even tho you can't see him, he is near and is sending you messages of love and reassurance. I am convinced that there is no heaven or hell--just a transition. You may not remember, but you will visit with Paul at night when your spirit roams. Paul wants you to feel no guilt. Each person has his or her path and he could not have had a more loving or supportive family.##imported-begin##Bill and Dolores Bollinger##imported-end##
