“ I knew from the first time I saw Pete that he was a great guy. He was our caretaker. He made sure that all was safe and everything was running perfectly at the Beach House. His great work with charities confirmed my supposition that he there was more to Pete than the eye could see. He was handsome with a winning smile, but his concern for others and his willingness to do something to help them won my heart. I only knew Pete a few years on my visits to Myrtle Beach, but I will miss him and all the good he did for others. Vivian Schardt##imported-begin##Vivian Schardt##imported-end##

“ My heart-felt sympathies go to Frank and Pearl Ackerman. Pete, you are in so many of my childhood memories that it is hard not to think of only the best of times with you. I have only positive memories of you. You have always been my very best friend and it will be difficult to think back to those times, because I will have no one else to recollect those events with. I have always looked up to you and wished that I could have been more like you. Why didn't we keep in touch more? I feel robbed by your absence. Thank you Peter for being my friend when I had few. I will miss you dearly. Love, Todd.##imported-begin##Todd Allan Dempsey##imported-end##

“ Frank, Pearl, Chantele, and Jessica, My mother told me about Peter's passing, and I immediately felt a deluge of memories from our shared past. I was shocked to hear that he had passed so young, yet when I found out he has a wife and daughter...well, he will live on in more than memories. As a father myself, I find comfort in this, and I know Peter does, too. I have many pictures and mementos from our crossed lives in school and hockey together, and these, already cherished, will be cherished even more. I have some hilarious memories of Pierre and I in a pub across the street from the dive of a hotel in Paris where we stayed when we traveled there in '89. I still don't know how we didn't get kicked out... ..and hockey moments as goalies (what were we thinking?)... I have a picture with a French countryside chateau and Peter and I standing in front of the thing. Peter had framed it, matted it, and written our hockey numbers in a delicate script at the bottom. I had always felt this was one of my favorite pictures I have in my possession. Now, it is truly priceless. Goodbye, Peter. I'll see you in the next world where you've gone first. It is a privilege to be your friend. Sincerely, Michael Hasapopoulos with Ezelda, Timothy, Michaela, Jacob, John Peter, and Moses Michael###imported-begin##Michael Hasapopoulos###imported-end##

“Pete knows that I would never sugar coat anything, in life or in death. But, Pete Ackerman was a cooterawesome person, know that. He was also an eccentric guy, which is why I nicknamed him “Weirdo Pete” after I first met him, and the name fit and stuck over time. And more than that, he was always a really reliable and good friend to me. Few on this planet will ever live up to that like he did. The coolest thing I can say about Pete was that he didn't need a social networking application to ever remember my birthday, and he brought me a snow globe from New Foundland, even though I gave him shit for years about being a Canuck. He always supported whatever crazy endeavor I chose to pursue and always tried to hock it for me. He was also probably one of the most benevolent people I've ever encountered. He always gave me really rad presents, and every single day I leave my apartment I see the Hatebreed signed drum symbol he gave me one year that was disguised inside of a pizza box. All that's left now of him are many years worth of hazy memories and the pictures to prove that I knew him. I really wish events would have turned out different for Pete. In my humble opinion, he died way too young, and I for one will miss him. And, I hope wherever Pete is, that he knows that I'm fucking pissed that he's making me write this; a friendship capsule inside of a paragraph on a funeral guestbook web page! The least we could do for Pete would be to hunt down Morrissey and beat him with his shoe until he included Pete in some form of future clever lyric to a mopey song! Bon voyage my friend...##imported-begin##Brett Stout##imported-end##

“ Pete When you passed away we are all very lost souls.and after a while it began to take it toll. we found it difficult, grieving and thought! at a time like this all we could think about is why? Everybody has their own way of grieving and with some it doesn't take them long. Because of the special person that you are! There is no way we can ever put you out of our minds , for it is Impossible to do. You were not only a good friend,coworker, Father and son. but a great person that made the world a better place to be in. How can we not help but to mourn. There will be times we will forget about it for a brief moment, then we are back feeling forlorn .Time is not going to help! There is no way we can forget about you. As we feel this way till we again meet in Heaven Your Friend
