“ Randy, You were the strongest man I have ever known and will always be loved and remembered by me. Not only were you my father's best friend in life..you were one of the best role models I've ever had to look up to in my life. Through all the trials and physical ailments you went through in your life, you never let it make you bitter or angry. You never complained. You remained loving, gentle, kind, funny....just a great guy. Your picture should be in Websters dictionary next to the word "Man". You embodied everything that a decent human being has...and I will always have the utmost respect for you. I want to just say thanks for being like another father to me. For all the Steeler stuff you and Elaine sent me..for all the jokes you emailed me..for all the love you both showed me and my family. Your life and your relationship with Elaine will always be there for me to remember as an example of what true love is. Anyways..tell dad we miss him as we will miss you when you see him. I'll have a cold Iron City for you both at the Steelers game today... Love always....your "adopted" son, Mikes McNabb##imported-begin##Mikes##imported-end##

“ In the few years that Randy and his lovely wife Elaine have lived here in Myrtle Beach at the Legends, they have made so very many friends. Randy along with his many talents, humor, strength of spirit, and giving nature have touched the lives of all who were fortunate enough to have known him. May the Lord be with him, as he will always be with us. And God bless his family and give them the strength they need to make it through this most difficult time. Fondly, Linda and Jerry Chiolero##imported-begin##Linda and Jerry Chiolero##imported-end##
