“ I would like to extend my sincere condolences to the family of Ransome Sellers. This month will be particularly difficult because Mr. Sellers' birth date is coming up so quickly after his death. Death is difficult enough to deal with without this additional reminder of his short life. I say, short, because God put 'time indefinite' into our hearts. He didn't create us with a timeline that included death, which is why the Bible aptly describes death as an enemy. Ecclesiastes 3:11, 1 Corinthians 15:26 At Psalm 46:1 you can read: 'God is for us a refuge and strength A help that is readily to be found during distresses.' Isn't that a wonderful thought? At a time of crisis in our lives, God's word is telling us to remember that he will be our refuge and strength. This is a very good time to meditate on the comfort we can find in God's Word the Bible. At James 4:8 the Bible says, 'Draw close to God and He will draw close to you.' Praying to God about your feelings and emotions regarding the loss of Ransome will help you through the mourning process. Even Jesus Christ mourned when he heard of the death of his friend Lazarus. It is natural to feel sad and cry, just as Jesus did. Jesus then performed a miracle that validates a hope put out to all who have 'fallen asleep' in death. He resurrected his friend Lazarus. You can read about this wonderful account at John 11:11-44. At John 5:28 Jesus said, 'Do not marvel at this because the hour is coming when all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out.' Imagine seeing Ransome again, resurrected to a healthy, secure life. We can put our hope in this promise because 'It is impossible for God to lie.' Hebrews 6:18 I hope in the upcoming days and months ahead, you can find some quiet time to look up the above scriptures in your own Bible. Reading the Bible will help you during this dark time in your lives. My thoughts and prayers are with you.##imported-begin##Suzanne Lombardo##imported-end##
