Tribute Wall

“ My friend and cousin: Ray, never hardly knew you growing up, til you came home. We worked together for a while, during this time a bond grew between us in which I loved. You were a man of many talents in which the greatest I feel was reaching out with understanding and having a gift of allowing one to believe in themselves. You had many traits of your mom and father both. A combination which created a man whom I appreciated and admired. I loved you and know you did make a difference in lives left behind.
