Richard was my big brother and in my earlier years also my mentor.

He taught me to run with the Buffalo and Skii down a mountain-side on a bed of dried leaves.

He led the way to serving our country in the military and surviving the war in Viet Nam.

Richard was there when Dad needed taking care of in the last weeks of his life and he was there to carry his casket in the end.

He was mild mannered but with a strong conviction and never compromised what he believed in, even when it wasn't totally understood by family or friends.

Although we did not see each other for month's even years, Richard was always in my thoughts and a smile would come when I thought of him sitting in sunshine on the beach.

After all, Richard spend the last years of his life living his dream how many of us will be able to say that when the time comes?

I miss just knowing you aren't around ...

“ Richard and I were married for almost 39 years. As in all long-term relationships, we had many wonderful times, some hard times and some not so happy times. Through it all, we never stopped loving each other. He was a wonderful father and a kind, caring man. He was often quiet, more comfortable in the background than as the center of attention until someone needed help or something needed done. Then, Richard was there to unobtrusively lend a hand never seeking acknowledgment or thanks.

*He loved the beach and fulfilled a life-long dream to live near the ocean when he moved to Myrtle Beach where I recently joined him after my retirement. His sudden death was unexpected despite his illness and caught us all by surprise as death often does. It was with great sadness that I said good-bye to him. I know he is at peace and his suffering has ended. I am happy for that but I miss him terribly. Rich - you will always be in my heart.
Your loving wife, Ida*
