“ I look on my past memories and i realized what a great Grandfather i had; he was always there to make me laugh when even when i was around him he would always say spiders gonna getcha when i was sitting on his lap and he was tickle me with his hand. He always used to tell me the boogie man was in the basement and i believed him. I remember the days he used to baby sit me and i put perform dancing shows for him. As i got older and the family went its separate ways i didn't see him as much and i believe it was Gods will that brought My Grandparents my Mom, my sister, and Uncle together to all have are Christmas dinner in SC, and my Grandpas Great mashed potatoes were delicious as always. I gave him a gift of taking care of his loved dog Sammie and a new can opener. I hoped he loved it while he could, but i was just blessed to see him when i did just about a week and a half before he died... I loved him dearly he was always be remember and loved..
