“ One of my fondest memories of my Uncle Rick is how he was always trying to get my grandma (his mother) to say he was her favorite of all her children. She would smile and laugh, of course never willing to say it. We can find peace in knowing he was the first to be reunited with her and his father in the best place of all.

“ Just wanted to share my deepest heartfelt condolences. I hope my presence yesterday was a source of some small comfort during a time of chaos and grief. Rick was an OK guy and I liked him. I didn't know him as well as I probably should have and that's on me, but I know he loved his family and that going forward is most important right now. Rest in Peace Rick and God speed!
