“ Dearest Margaret,
What a beautiful love you and Bob shared. You two inspired me, have been my closest and most supportive friends through some trying times. Given your sweet dispositions and good humor we laughed ourselves silly every time we got together. Both of you genuinely welcomed this poor Yankee to the South into your culture and traditions and helped me feel at home. How Bob was patient enough and brave enough to teach me how to shoot when lesser men would have hid behind their F150 is a tribute to his character as well his compassion for a guy who shook like a leaf and darned near wet himself just looking at an empty 22 casing. Then there's the Cooter Stew. Goodness, that needs to be declared a National Treasure. I will honor Bob's life and your marriage forever. You both are always in my prayers.

“ Dear Margaret,

Paul and I send you our deepest condolences during this sad time. We remember the fun times that we had at your home where you insisted on hosting dinners and all the boating excursions that we shared in years past.

*Your friends,
Paul and Mary*
