“ Tracy, we met you on Monday, March 23rd at the Wendy's where Robbie was last seen. You were passing out flowers in case he was spotted by someone. Our family was on our way from Indianapolis to Myrtle Beach for a week's vacation. We talked to you briefly and let you know that we would pray for this situation. Just the fact the Robbie was missing saddened us deeply. Our daughter wrote on facebook that she wished we could have changed out plans and assisted with the search. His missing touched all our hearts, but especially her hear for some unknown reason. We did pray for your families, hoping that he would be found without being harmed. We were extremely sad when we saw the news in our hotel room that he had been found, but was not alive. We are Christians and believe that this was God's plan. We know this sounds like a cliché and is something that you most likely heard a lot during his funeral. We pray that he had accepted God in his heart and that he is with God right now. We know that he had a disability, but don't know the extent of that disability. We now continue to pray for his families that each one will find a way to deal with this loss. We believe that God put us there at the Wendy's at the same time you came there for some reason. Someday, we will know that reason. We pray that if there are non believers in this family, that they will find their way to God so that they can join Robbin in heaven upon their death. Death is something that everyone has to go through in life and our prayers are for your families at this time for some peace. In Jesus name, “ Robbie was a neighbor of ours for quite a while. I always remember him having such a big smile and he would always ask Ac and I how our day was when we got home. He could make you smile even if you had a bad day. The manners that this young gentleman always showed us was wonderful. We will miss you always Robbie and will see you again one day. Much love from Ac, Tracey, Lilly, and Thomas Berry.

“ I didn't see Robbie a real lot, but when I did, he was always smiling, always came over to say Hey He was always funny, happy and full of life. The best part of Robbie was never knowing what would come out of his mouth next. Such a fun person to be around. I will forever remember his voice and the way he truly enjoyed seeing us. I am fortunate to have such a special picture of him the last time I saw him.... And for that, I am ever grateful. R.I.P. Robbie ... I pray you didn't suffer. I wish it was all different for you....take with you the comfort of your dad and Wendy spending every minute of there days looking for you and never giving up. They loved you to the moon in back!!!

“ I have tried a few times to write this, and I just can not come up with the correct words, every single time I saw Robbie his face was always smiling and would shout "Hey Ski what you been doing" then he would bring up something he always remembered about me and his dad joking around. I am honored and humbled Robbie to be one of the loved ones who get to walk you to your final resting place as your pall bearer.
