Tribute Wall

“ Please accept my deepest sympathies for the loss of Mr. Collins. It is always difficult losing someone you love. I have been helped greatly at times like these by turning to God's word the bible for comfort and support. There is a time spoken of in the bible that says no resident will say I am sick at Isaiah 33:24 and of death being swallowed up forever Isaiah 25:8. These verses have given me hope that one day we will be able to live on earth forever according to God's original purpose for man. The bible states at Psalms 37:29 that all the righteous will possess the earth and remain forever. Realizing that God never wanted us to pass away in death has brought me great comfort and has given me faith in the words outlined at Acts 24:15 which foretells of a resurrection hope for both the righteous and unrighteous. May you gain comfort and look forward to this hope. Have confidence that these things will take place by means of God's kingdom mentioned at Daniel 2:44. It is by means of this kingdom we will be able to reap these wonderful rewards. You can trust in God because Titus 1:2 explains that He cannot lie.##imported-begin##Freda##imported-end##
