“ Sandra was such a sweet person. I knew her from high school and we sang in the youth choir together at First Baptist Church of Myrtle Beach, sometimes driving together. I am so sorry to learn of her passing and my sympathy goes out to all of her entire family.

Thank You Carol..... I do know that she thought the world of you! It was funny when me and Shannon had figured out that our Mom's went to school together and we re good friends. While me and Shannon were growing up, going to Socastee High School together, and friends. We had no idea that our Mom's had experienced the same thing many years before (except of course, at Myrtle Beach High School). When I told my Mama that I had gone to school and was friends with "Carol Willoughby's" daughter, she was so happy! My Mama truly thought the world of you Carol, and she was very honored to have called you her friend!!!!

“ Sandra and I went to kings way together years ago . We had a lot of special times there together. While visiting her a while back she reminded me about me praying for her. She had asked me if they ever called on her to pray in church , for me to pray. She did not like to pray out loud.

sandra craig - July 29, 2014 at 08:55 PM

My Mama actually LOVED to pray out loud!! She was ALWAYS being called on in Church to pray. I remember numerous times (wayyyyyyyyyy too many to count!!) she would be called to lay her hands on someone at the alter and pray for them. She would hope that by praying out loud, she'd be able to minister to ATLEAST one person (the more the better!!!)

She loved all of you ladies and absolutely loved going on trips with y'all!!! You gave the "perfect" example about Mama. Lol. She was definitely always concerned with her appearance in public, her makeup and hair had to be just perfect!! :)
