“ Mr. and Mrs. Galton & Juliet-- Sean was my next door neighbor at Clemson House my freshman year. My sister and roommate and I dubbed he and his roommate, Shawn Rogers, Big Shawn and Little Shawn much to Sean's chagrin since he was the bigger of the two! I enjoyed many talks, 99 cents movies at the Astro, and laughs with Sean. I am thankful for the time I spent with him and want to express my sympathy to you on his passing.##imported-begin##Alice O'Kelley##imported-end##

“ Kit, Charlotte, & Juliet, Driving back to Clemson today, I reflected on yesterday's memorial service. The most profound aspect was the rector's exhortation to you and all of us there: we grieve Sean's loss-that we never will "physically" enjoy his presence here as we knew it--but we must rejoice in the fact that Sean is now with Father God who created him, and with God the Son Jesus who redeemed him. He knows only God's glory and is worshipping him now, and will no longer know any suffering/pain that he might have known here. This was a strange comfort to me as my emotions vacillate within me! May God continue to comfort and hold each of you gently and lovingly, as well as the rest of the family who grieves. I am continuing to grieve with you and I hold each of your dearly in my heart very carefully and prayerfully before the Lord! The RUF Mom###imported-begin###Jerdone Davis###imported-end##

“ Dear Kit and Charlotte, Please accept my love and prayers on this saddest of occasions. I just read about Sean's death today, and my heart aches for you. My husband, Lee, died in November, and although the griefs are distinctly different, the intensity remains. Please know that you will be in my prayers as you go through this time. Kit, I know that I have said this to you before, but it bears repeating. Your counsel regarding logical consequences was an enormous contribution to my life. Thank you, and may God bless you both and give you comfort and strength as you go through this grief process. You are in my heart. Penny Hyder###imported-begin###Penny Hyder###imported-end###

“ Dear Mr. and Mrs. Galton and Juliet, I learned yesterday afternoon of Sean's passing from a mutual friend, and I am deeply sorry for your loss. I got to know Sean pretty well during my freshman year at Clemson - he was one of the first people I met, and one of the first to truly be a friend. During our freshman year, four of us Sean, Matt, Dave and myself struck a friendship and fumbled our way through our freshman year together - laughing, arguing, studying, playing basketball/tennis/golf - generally having a good time. I often think back upon that first year, and Sean, and consider it the best time I spent at Clemson. In many ways, it was a defining moment in my life, and Sean and the others had everything to do with it. I will forever be grateful for the time I did spend with him, and for the many memories that I will carry with me. Please know that my thoughts and prayers are will you and your family.##imported-begin##David Wolozyn##imported-end##

“ Dear Mr. and Mrs. Galton and Juliet, I was so sorry to learn of Sean's passing today when I read the Aiken Standard. I was Sean's AP Biology teacher at Aiken High School. I want you to know that I share in your loss. I remember Sean well and enjoyed having him as a student in my class. Sean was one of those students which teachers enjoy teaching and knowing as friends. Again, please know that my prayers are with you and all of the family at this time and that you will continue to be in my thoughts and prayers in the days to come. “ The blessing of college is that one is privileged to have dozens upon dozens of rich friendships. Some of those relationships are as sweet and rewarding as brotherhood. A few are so treasured that they extend into the rest of life. I grieve that my friendship with Sean was cut off early and tragically. But, in what will seem like a brief moment, we will be reunited by the Lord Jesus for eternity. He will wipe every tear from our eyes. God be praised! My prayers for comfort and strength are for Mr. and Mrs. Galton, and Juliet. Your son and brother was a great gift to me.##imported-begin##Brett Varner##imported-end##

“ Sean was truly one of the nicest guys I've ever known. He was my husband, Rhyno's, roommate before we got married. He came to our rescue on the interstate when our car died an hour and a half out of Columbia. He helped Rhyno clean the house really well before we got married and I moved in and he moved out. Later, he helped us move to a new house. We haven't seen him since then because he left to Peru, although his mission picture has hung on a bulletin board in our kitchen as a prayer reminder. Sean will be missed dearly by all the people he touched in his short life on this earth. I know he is with his Eternal Father in heaven but we will always regret not getting to say goodbye and telling him how much he meant to us.##imported-begin##Melanie Coetsee##imported-end##
