“ I am still in complete shock and overwhelmed with sadness. My thoughts and prayers go to each and everyone. I have known Sean for many many years...all the way back to the Macon years. If there is anything that I can do.....call me. Always remember the good times, the happy times....do not give Satan the foothold over sad thoughts. Rejoice and know that God is in control! May you all find peace! Love to you all!##imported-begin##Penny DuRocher-Janes##imported-end##

“ Dear Johnson family, I am so sorry to hear of the passing of Sean. When the enemy death strikes, your grief can be great. You may wonder how you will be able to get through this difficult time. The Bible can help us in this regard. At 2 Corinthians 1:3-4, it calls God the father of tender mercies and the God of all comfort, who comforts us during all our tribulations. So we can turn to our heavenly Father in prayer, ask for his Holy Spirit and he will give us what we need to help us cope with difficult times such as this. The Bible makes it clear that God did not originally intend for humans to die. He told our first parents Adam and Eve, they would die only if they disobeyed him. God's original purpose for mankind has not changed. The Bible at John 5:28-29 shows that those who are in God's memory will be resurrected. Just think of that: We have the prospect of being reunited with our dear loved ones again. Isn't this comforting to know? When Jesus Christ was here on the earth, he showed he has the power to bring the dead back to life. On one occasion, Jesus resurrected his good friend Lazarus. (John 11:11-44). Also on another occasion, he resurrected the only son of a widow. (Luke 7:11-17). Even though these resurrections took place thousands of years ago, Jesus was showing on a small scale what will take place in the near future under the Kingdom of God. (Matthew 6:9). In your spare time please consider these additional scriptures: Revelation 21:3-4, Acts 24:15, Isaiah 25:8, Isaiah 26:19. I hope these scriptures will bring you comfort and hope during this difficult time.###imported-begin##Sandra Smith###imported-end##

“ Words cannot express the grief we feel. Sean was one of the smartest and funniest people anyone could have as a friend. We truly believe what happened to him is evidence of the failure of our healthcare system as we've known it. Hopefully, someday we'll know exactly what went so wrong. We will always be grateful for the opportunity to get acquainted, and reacquainted, with everyone during our visit in May. Love to you Lynne; you're like a sister we didn't realize we had. LizAnne, we hate we missed seeing you during our visit, but we very much enjoyed meeting John and his family. John, Sean was SO proud of you. Eric, Sean told us what a great, stand-up guy you are, and what a wonderful husband you are to Pat; that was all very evident when we got to meet you. Pat, we know your heart is breaking, but he is no longer suffering, and is now with Pete and our friend Kevin, who we also loved and miss. May God comfort and keep you. In 2nd Corinthians 5:8 we read - "We are confident, I say, and willing to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord." Sean loved all of you more than anything else. Godspeed, Seanny. We love you and we'll see you again.##imported-begin##Mark and Lisa Barrett##imported-end##

“ I am sorry to hear of your loss. Death is an enemy to us all. It is especially an enemy when it strike someone dear to us. God is more powerful than death, and he promise to get rid of this enemy once and for all. The Bible teaches: "as the last enemy, death will be brought to nothing." (1Corinthians 15:26) Then the words of John 5:28 will be fulfilled that reads: "Marvel not at this, for the hour is coming when all that are in the graves shall hear his voice and come forth." I hope these words will help you cope with the loss of your loved one.##imported-begin##R Brown##imported-end##

“ As my son Hans wrote, "Sean was a good man. I grew up learning many computer skills from him. Sean was the one person that believed in me a a child. WE MISS YOU SEAN, I will always remember the light you brought to me and my family's life." Sean meant the world to me and our family. We have known him for many years and he has touched our lives very deeply. We wish we had more time with him. He will truly be missed by all of us. Your friends, Myrtl, Jimmy, James and Hans###imported-begin##Myrtle Horlacher###imported-end##
