“ As we live this life we encounter so many problems that make us feel hopeless and distressed. And the worse of our problems is Death an enemy of life. Losing a loved one can be devastating, because we have a built-in desire to live and enjoy life with our family and friends. When we lose our loved one, for what ever reasons we may believe, it is distressing, because we miss them very much. At these times, we need encouragement and hope so that we can cope with our lost. For that reason, we can be encouraged by reflecting on the promises that God has given us thru his word the Bible, concerning that hope of seeing our love ones again. I hope that you find comfort in reading these scriptures. John 11:11-44, John 5: 21, 28, 29 and Revelation 21:4, My prayers are with your family.##imported-begin##Karen Cross##imported-end##

“ I'm terribly sorry for your loss. I am another online friend. We'd planned to meet one day as Shearon has a sister-in-law living in our town. On the phone she had such a soothing, calming voice. We talked during the time she was up with her sister during the last days. My deepest sympathy to her family.##imported-begin##Diane Arrington##imported-end##

“ VJ, Autumn, Zeke, Jennie, and "Head of Household": I've been trying to figure this thing out.....I suppose God and Jeanne needed her more. As time has passed, all of you have become so important to me and helped me through the last 2+ years, I guess we are just one big family. The loss of Sherrie will always be in our hearts and thoughts. It is easy to say she is in a better place, and I believe that, but, we will always want to pick up the phone and call mom to say "what ya' doing". We can still do that, you know. She loved you all so much and was very proud of the accomplishments all of you had made. Be proud and happy with that. I saw the smile on her face when she told me of the New Grand Child, even though we were talking on the phone I love you all.....you are a great part of my family.##imported-begin##Calvin Conrad##imported-end##
