“ I was so saddened to learn of the passing of my old friend Tom Dalton. His family owned Smiling Sunnys on Staten Island right around the corner where I lived. When I was 12 I began toy collecting and would go there everyday to talk with him and the people that worked there. They were so kind to me as they never chased me out or told me to go home. They would ask about how I was doing in school and save toys for me until I had saved up enough allowance to afford them. In 1990 they sold the store and I was crushed. I had hope to reconnect with him on social media but could never find him. Tom was such a great guy, he always had a smile on his face and a positive attitude. He was a genuine person and I am sure he remained that way. Rest in peace Tom and thanks for being good to me when I was a kid. Jimmy Perrone

“ Thomas Dalton had many aliases and played many roles within his circle of family and friends. He was often referred to as “Honey”, ”Tom”, “Tommy” and “Papa”. His roles included loving son, brother, uncle, husband, father, grandfather, friend and brother-in-Christ. He will be remembered as an avid enthusiast of classic and custom automobiles, trucks and Harley Davidson motorcycles. He will also be equally remembered for his deep devotion to his family, church and community. His wife will remember him as the love of her life and a “sugar bandit”, his sons will remember him as a teacher and mentor and his grandchildren will remember him as the “Great Story Teller”. We will miss you “Honey”, ”Tom”, “Tommy” and “Papa”. We will miss your laughter, your smile, your hugs, your kisses, your sense of humor, your presence and your fellowship.
