“ Im so sorry for your loss, Trevor was really a bright spirit from what i saw of him. I sat with him in English this year, Mrs. Bullocks class, and participating with him in lectures was very entertaining, because of his knowledge and views on everything. He was one of the smartest, most opinionated people i know. I feel lucky to even have experienced his presence. Im deeply sorry. -Tori Harner”

“ Dear Trevor, Tom, Karen and Family, My sweet memory of Trevor will always be at his sister Susan's wedding just a week ago. It was such a loving sweet time for the family. What a precious moment, cherish it always. Trevor was at his best, both with his fine photography and his dancing skills, he truly enjoyed himself. He was my dance partner a couple of times, we even laughed together about how well he was “cutting the rug”. Although, I have not seen Karen and Tom for several years, it was wonderful to see how much Trevor had grown and what a nice, smart young man he had turned out to be. I saw the love that he had for his Mom and Dad. I saw how proud and loving they were with him too. My heart breaks for the family; I pray daily that they will be comforted. Know that Trevor is in heaven, whatever pain or struggle he had, he is at peace. My thoughts and prayers are with you all. Maddy###imported-begin###Madelyn B. Clark###imported-end###

“ Karen, Tom, Susan and Jo: Words cannot even begin to describe my sorrow for you. You have all been a second family to me for years and years. You all are the biggest blessing Trevor could have ever have dreamed of. I think about how much I looked up to you, and how much you did for me, and know it was multiplied x 100 for Trevor! If only every child was that fortunate! In my mind I still see Trevor as the beautiful 2 year old angel I baby sat again and again. I remember taking him to the park where he LOVED the slide and swings for hours at a time. And curling on the couch, being read to (with Tally!). And billions of cups of “juicy juice” (that one doesn’t even need an explanation!) I remember (mostly fondly) his favorite potty training video and him watching it again and again (and again and again...) and him crying the whole time it was on “rewind” (as I willed the VCR to rewind faster...!) and then Susan and I were stuck singing the theme song all the way to High School since it was permanently etched into our minds (still is!). :) It is so hard to believe he is 16! (I don’t even want to think how old that makes me...) Looking at the pictures online and in the proofs, I see what a beautiful young man he was continuing to grow into. I am so thankful to have had such a close relationship with him and with your whole family. You are always in my thoughts/prayers – even more so right now. Please contact me if there is anything I can do. I love you all so much. Sarah Packard###imported-begin##Sarah Packard###imported-end##

“ I truly relate to you his family. I too have grandsons who are in the Autism spectrum. The oldest is 13 and even though he is very intelegent he has very little social and reasoning skills. The youngest is 10, he also is smart but you are very aware he is Autistic. He has all the basic signs. They are both beautiful children and I cannot imagine anything you have been going through. I don't know how I would be able to understand why. My heart and prayers go out to you. I pray God will sustain and keep you. If it is any consolation to you, I feel that a child with this condition is not aware of the consequences of his behavior. I believe God takes that in to account.##imported-begin##Jeanne Edwards##imported-end##

“ This is so hard to believe, and a sadness that will never go away. We will never know the truth in this realm, but as a fellow "aspie", I know in my heart, Trevor had reasons for his actions. I have been told recently that we should not label ourselves with being different and we don't. It's just that people figure that out for themselves and far too often with misunderstanding. “ Mr. and Mrs. Varinez, I had the pleasure of working with Trevor in the fourth grade. He was the life of our class. He entered everyday with a "Good morning everybody..." He brought smiles to my face more than once. I also had the pleasure of coming to your house to work with him the following summer. After each session I wasn't allowed to leave until we hugged goodbye. No matter the circumstances of this tragedy, my memories of Trevor will always bring me to smile. May God bless you during this tragic time.##imported-begin##Laurie Jackson##imported-end##

“ Trevor has touched my life in ways that many could never understand. I had the pleasure of working with him for three years and he brightened my day every time I saw him. He inspired me to go back to school to become a teacher of special needs students. He made me smile, he made me laugh, he made my job wonderful. I am so lucky to have had the pleasure of knowing him. Every morning he greeted me with a bright smile and a friendly hello. Every afternoon when I left he wished me well and gave me a pat on the back. He was kind, thoughtful, intelligent, and chivalrous. He came from a wonderful family. He will truly, truly be missed.
