“ To Debbie & family. Our heart, prayers & thoughts go out to you & your family at this time of double sorrow for you all. We did not know you all very long, but long enough to know that you & your family are some of the most kindest, generous, & most friendly family & neighbors that we met while living in SC. God doesn't make families or neighbors like yours everyday. You & your neighbors made our time in your neighborhood the best times that we had while in SC. As you Debbie once told us, "You treat people the way you want to be treated". And your alls kindness backed that up every word of that phrase, to "The Best". We loved you as neighbors & always will. We miss you all terriably. Please know that you are now & will Always be in our hearts & prayers. You know we are Only a phone call away. so please call sometime, because we are Still neighbors here & will also be in Heaven. Take care Debbie & May God Always Bless you & your family.##imported-begin##Sonny & Sandy Brockman##imported-end##

“ Tyler Neidig, man imma miss you. You were a great cousin. So now who am i gonna have to pick on people with now. Who am i gonna beg to gimme there gorgeous truck. Who am i gonna look up to now. Now i cant pick on you about cuttin the sleeves outta basically every shirt you own. I just don't understand why god had to take you from me so soon, but i guess he was ready for you to go home, so you could see your Granddaddy and Grandma, it's funny how Sunday you were sayin you were almost jealous that Granddaddy was in heaven with Grandma. This was the last thing i expected. I know we didnt see each other all the time, but everytime we did we got closer, and we always laughed, no matter what was goin' on. When i hugged you bye sunday i never thought it'd be for the last time.. Man this hurts. But your in a better place now, and your my guardian angel <3 i love you.
