“ *To the Hardwick family,
My deepest condolences over your loss. As you reflect on the cherished times spent together, it will be the little things that you will remember, the quiet moments, the smiles, the laughter. And although it may seem hard right now, it will be the memories of these little things that help to push away the pain and bring you comfort. Until the day when you share those little things again, may you continue to assure yourself of the resurrection and that nothing, not even death, can separate us from God’s love or His promises that are through Christ Jesus our Lord.—Romans 8:38, 39; John 11:11, 21-26; Matthew 5:5. Heartfelt prayers are with you. Visit jw.org for more information and encouragement.*

Katie, so sorry to hear about you sister in law's death. You have been through so much these past few years but I'm sure God has already made you strong to handle what you can. God will handle the rest. Bless you.

“My deepest sympathy to the family of Mrs. Hardwick. Losing a loved one is one of the most painful thing in this world. But rest assured that Jehovah our God sees our sorrows and deeply cares about us. (1Peter 5:7) May you find comfort in God's word recorded in John 5:28,29 which promises a resurrection hope for all our dear loved ones.
