“ Brenda, I know you of all people know how very special Wally was to all of us who worked with him at Litchfield. There is not a day that went by that he wasn't smiling and bopping to the music he had playing in his shop. His character is one that I myself wish I could adopt. His passing has made me realize how special life is with that someone you truly love. I think about him everyday. It's hard not to when his presence is still with us. Wishing you the best and please know that you can call on any of us to help you as you go forward. Marilyn###imported-begin###MARILYN MCHONE###imported-end##

“ Wally was more than a friend or a co-worker, he was family. His loyalty, trustworthiness and most of all his humor made him who he was. He loved his wife dearly and never failed to mention it each day, not only to her, but to those around him. His endearing qualities made it impossible for anyone who met him, not to adore him. I'll miss his singing and dancing, his stories and were there ever stories, his smile and most of all his complete devotion as a friend. He would give his shirt off his back if it meant removing the tears from your eyes. He gave me something to look forward to everyday I went to work. When I look around the resort, everything I see reminds me of him...he made it more beautiful with his craftsmanship and just the memories. I will always miss him, but I am one of the few who can say "I knew a great man named Wally and he was my friend." Wally, all I can say is "Oh, Well..." I love you, Cheryl###imported-begin###Cheryl Parsons###imported-end##

“ My heart and prayers are with Walters family, as I know they are going through a very rough time. I will miss seeing his smiling face come through my office door and listening to his stories as well. He will be missed by all that knew and loved him. Take faith in the fact that he is safe in God's arms now. God bless you Brinda and family, and please no not hesitate to contact your friends when you need a shoulder. Take care, and God Bless.##imported-begin##judy bongers##imported-end##

“ I have had the pleasure of having had known and worked with Wally for quite a few years and never did a day pass that he didn't make laugh. His outlook on life certainly made you take things less seriously and enjoy each and every moment you had with him. I'm not sure as to when my relationship with Wally went from coworker to friend and confidant but it did so without warning. The fact that he would do anything for you was enough to confirm his commitment to those he loved and respected. I have wept over his passing, for I will never stop missing him as a friend and loving him as a brother. I hope you are at peace, your friend, Pete.##imported-begin##Pete Eberle##imported-end##

“ I worked with Wally for a good many years. He was such a positive person. Always with a smile and hello for all. I know all his friends at work will miss him as I do. My deepest sympathy for his wife and family. May God bless you and keep you in his arms.##imported-begin##Vangie Boulware##imported-end##

“ Please accept my condolences for the loss of Mr. Kraisky. It is difficult to lose someone at such a young age. May you gain strength through relying on Almighty God. Turn to him in prayer and ask for the kingdom mentioned at Daniel 2:44 to become firmly established. It is by means of this kingdom that we finally see the end of sickness and death. Look forward to this time and of the time spoken of at Acts 24:15 regarding the resurrection hope for both those righteous and unrighteous.##imported-begin##Freda##imported-end##
