

Dr. William "Bill" Taft Stuart

April 12, 1939 - August 13, 2020

William Taft Stuart, 81, was born in Hornell, NY, to Roger Winship Stuart and Bonnalyn Grace Taft Stuart but spent most of his youth in Laurel, MD. He passed peacefully at Myrtle Beach Manor on August 13, 2020. He is survived by his wife Vicki L. Stuart; his son Ian M. Stuart (Rebecca) of Poolesville, MD; his daughter, Meghan R. Mascetti (Greg) of Myrtle Beach, SC; granddaughters Adalynn Marie Mascetti, Cassidy Mae Mascetti, and soon to arrive Maggie Claire Mascetti; a sister Barbara Swisher (James) of Grass Valley, CA; and numerous nieces and nephews. Bill's twin brother, Roger W. Stuart II, predeceased Bill on February 11, 2018.

Bill's dad called him "doc" from an early age, so "doc" it became. Dr. Stuart's life-long passion was education. He was never happier than when he was in a classroom, whether it be in New Mexico, Maryland, Bulgaria, Africa, Boston, Virginia, wherever. The location did not matter as long as he could tell a good story to go with the lesson. An educator is one who learns as well as teaches and he learned from so many when he lived in the Pacific, Alaska, Columbia, South America. He watched thousands of students come and go over 50 years of education being his priority (44 of those year at University of MD, College Park). Many of his students kept in close contact over the decades and their notes, calls, and visits made every day the perfect one.

“ WOW, I had no idea that my professor passed. He was one of my best professors at UMD 5 years ago. You are truly missed Prof. Thank you for believing in me with those 35 page papers! You extended me so much grace and helped my approach towards finishing things well and on time. Thank you and I appreciate you.

“ The news of Bill’s passing saddened me. I knew him as a brother in Christ and an interesting friend at Redland Baptist Church in Derwood MD in the late 80’s and early 90’s. Bill and I served as deacons then. Vicki and Meghan were fellow teacher and student in Sunday School. I enjoyed being with his family.

In 1990, shortly after we met, Bill helped me spend a productive day at a science library at the University of Maryland while he met his classes, then we had a great lunch together. In 1992, Bill and I enjoyed a couple of cross-country airplane rides to Baptist conventions in Indianapolis and Fort Worth. We had good conversations about a variety of topics, both sacred and secular, including the clouds outside our window. We both liked our tour of a museum honoring the Indiana poet James Whitcomb Riley. In 2002, we just happened to meet at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Though there for different reasons, we still found time to break bread together.

Bill gladdened my heart. I will remember him fondly.

“ I worked under Bill one summer in Saudi Arabia. It was stressful at times, but Bill made it more pleasant, with his talent for placating angry bigwigs, his endless supply of fascinating stories from his world travels, and of course his Donald Duck impression. I’ll miss him.

“ Our heartfelt condolences to Vicky. May the joy that you had together help you recover your strength especially through these trying times.

Barb and Al, Ben and Josh, and the whole Stuart family may your deep sorrow at Bill's parting now, turn into peace and smiles as you remember his walk through your lives and this world.

We wish you all, and especially Bill's and Vicky' children and grandchildren God's ever present grace, that gift, which picks us up again and again to learn, to work, to serve, and to laugh together.

The photo below is of Bill being escorted out of Zambia by two Christian Mission in Many Lands (CMML) missionaries "to keep him out of trouble." It was 1975 and I took the photo and remained in Africa. At the time Bill was agnostic, but the prayers of these missionaries clearly worked and he became a Christian.

“ Our sincere condolences to my dear friend, Vicki, and to Ian, Meghan and the rest of the Stuart family. I had the honor of meeting Bill about 4 years ago. They stopped in at our Florida home for a few hours one afternoon on their way to a cruise ship adventure. Vicki and I had been friends for a few years but I had never met Bill until then. Such a wonderful, sweet and kind man....full of knowledge and great stories! Wishing I had an opportunity to know him better. To the family...I'm so sorry for your loss. To Mr. Bill.....rest well. You've earned it.

“ Dr. Bill "The Bulldog" Stuart (never let a bureaucrat get in his way), a wonderful academic, mentor and bon vivant. He was a major influence in my life.
RIP.

I, the Ethnomusicologist, took the photo. We had been uninvited from Bill's long time preferred establishment, The Town Hall, so we were making do at local venues.

“ I met Bill when he and Vickie came to Redland Baptist Church in Derwood, MD. Our sons were in daycare together, and we eventually shared a Sunday School class on the Bible and contemporary issues. I shall always cherish the hours spent in discussion with him, his understanding of the anthropology of the tribes and beginning Hebrew and my ancient history and elementary Greek, sometimes complementary perspectives, and sometimes the discourse was divergent but always stimulating and edifying. (The balance of the class tolerated us and our quirks.) I have missed him since he moved south, the phone is not the same as being in the same room -- I look forward to the day we shall meet again.
