“ Friends and Family,

Bill Homes is a friend dedicated to his wife and family. His first love was his wife Vera.

We had many conversations together, some were about his family, some about his church and love for our creator and most were about his love for his wife Vera. When Vera graduated to her next venture in eternal life, Bill was lost in sorrow. We met and spoke about his proud service in the Navy and my service in the Army. Bill, and I met for prayers and general conversation but after Vera passed and there was just the two of us, things were not the same. He lost his life partner.

September 20, 2012, I lost my friend Bill Holmes, but God willing, Bill and Vera are together again, this time for an eternity.

May the Peace of God be with family and friends of Bill and Vera Homes.
