“ Jimmy and I attended Conway High together with him being two years older than me. He, along with Tim Taylor Blake (now also deceased) and I shared something else in common. All three of us lost our fathers in combat in World War II. Tim's dad was also killed in Italy. Mine died in the Philippines on January 19, 1945. Every year a member of the Defense Dept. would come to the school and interview us separately to see how we were and if we needed anything. They also wanted to know how our parent(s) were treating us!

Rest in Peace Jimmy and finally enjoy being in the arms of your Father!

“ I remember Jimmy from CHS. He was always so polite. I am very sorry that he has passed. I never knew that his father died in 1943 during the war, when Jimmy was only a few months old. We sometimes learn a lot about a person when we read his/her obituary, and then it is too late to acknowledge. My sincerest sympathy to Jimmy's family. May he Rest In Peace.
