“ *Maryanne, Lee and Mrs. Davis: Although I live in Manhattan, I still read the Gazette-Journal, and I read the nice obituary for Mr. Davis. Please accept my condolences on your loss. My Mother Burkie died on January 23, and I still feel her loss greatly. She fell out of window while taking a photograph of a storm, survived the fall with many broken bones, but then we lost her when an accident occurred at the hospital. I didn't know Mr. Davis very well, but I do know how painful it is to lose a parent. Maryanne, I have missed you at our high school reunions. I always remember how pretty, nice, fun and smart you are, and I hope to see you at 1 of our next reunions. Many of our classmates attend, and everyone is on best behavior-- you would enjoy seeing folks. Again, my condolences, and please keep in touch. With sympathy, J. Bland###imported-begin###J.
